

Report on 78th Independence Day Ceremonial Parade by NCC Cadets at Narmada College of Science & Commerce

Event Overview

The 78th Independence Day celebration on August 15th, 2024 at Narmada College of Science & Commerce was a grand and patriotic event, marked by the ceremonial parade performed by the cadets of the college's National Cadet Corps (NCC). The event was held on the college premises, with a large gathering of students, faculty, and our chief guest.

Chief Guest

The Chief Guest for the event was Dr. P.H. Shah, the Director of Education at NEST. Dr. Shah's presence added prestige to the occasion, and he was warmly welcomed by the Dr. A. K. Singh, Principal – NCSC and students.

The Ceremonial Parade

The highlight of the event was the ceremonial parade conducted by the NCC cadets. The cadets showcased their discipline, training, and commitment to national service through a well-coordinated and impressive march. The parade was led by the Captain Cdt. Ankit Singh of the NCC unit, followed by the platoons representing various year's cadets.

The parade commenced with the hoisting of the National Flag by Dr. P.H. Shah, accompanied by the National Anthem. As the flag unfurled, the cadets saluted with precision, demonstrating their respect and dedication to the nation.

The march past was executed flawlessly, with each platoon maintaining perfect alignment and rhythm. The cadets' uniforms were immaculate, and their synchronized movements reflected the rigorous training they had undergone. The parade was a visual spectacle that resonated with the spirit of patriotism.

Chief Guest's Address

Following the parade, Dr. P.H. Shah addressed the gathering. In his speech, he commended the cadets for their exemplary performance and emphasized the importance of discipline, dedication, and national pride. Dr. Shah also spoke about the significance of Independence Day, urging the students to uphold the values of freedom and contribute positively to the nation's progress.

Glimpse of 78th Independence Day Ceremonial Parade at NCSC

Ceremonial Parade's Performance

Ceremonial Parade's Performance

Group Photo of NCC Cadets with Dr. P. H. Shah (DE-NEST), Dr. A. K. Singh (Principal-NCSC), Lt. Cdr. Dr. K. G. Raval (HoD Electronics) & Prof. Bhavesh R Maheshwari (CTO/Troop Commander-NCC).

Conclusion

The Independence Day celebration at Narmada College of Science & Commerce was a resounding success. The ceremonial parade by the NCC cadets was the centerpiece of the event, showcasing the discipline and patriotism of the students. The presence of Dr. P.H. Shah as the Chief Guest added to the event's significance, making it a memorable occasion for all participants.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks, where the college administration expressed gratitude to the Chief Guest, the NCC cadets, and everyone involved in making the celebration a grand success.

Prof. Bhaveshbhai R Maheshwari
Troop Commander/CTO
Narmada College of Science & Commerce
Zadeshwar, Bharuch

Prof. Bhaveshbhai R. Maheshwari
Troop Commander (NCC)
Narmada College of Science & Commerce,
Zadeshwar - Bharuch